Independent Filmmaker Peachanda DuBose Announces Production of “But Still...” in Los Angeles County

Los Angeles, CA — Independent filmmaker Peachanda DuBose is preparing to enter production on But Still..., a poignant romantic drama exploring unexpected love, inner conflict, and the enduring connections that shape personal growth.

Written, directed, and produced by DuBose, the film follows two individuals whose powerful bond challenges their perceptions of identity, future aspirations, and the quiet pressures of societal expectation — ultimately revealing a love that lingers even as self-love takes center stage.

But Still... stars leading lady Rhonda Morman, who also serves as Co-Executive Producer, alongside leading man Danny Royce, in addition to an all star cast. The film is currently crowdfunding to assist with production costs, and supporters are invited to contribute at www.peachandadubose.com/contact

Upon completion, But Still... is slated for the international film festival circuit before premiering exclusively on DuBose’s own streaming platform, peach TV®, continuing her mission to create resonant, character-driven cinema for a global audience.
